

An update on the search for Messiah University's next president

Feb. 21, 2025

Dear members of the Messiah community,

We have been working hard to develop a strong slate of candidates and have in-person interviews scheduled with the Presidential Search Committee for early March. Following the interviews, the search committee will deliberate to discern if there is majority support for one of the candidates and will report our progress to the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees regarding next steps.

Please continue to be in prayer for wisdom, direction and discernment for the search committee and for God's leading and calling in the lives of the candidates. We remain hopeful and confident in our commitment to find a president who can exceptionally and faithfully lead Messiah University in the continued advancement of its distinctive Christian educational mission in the years ahead.
